It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

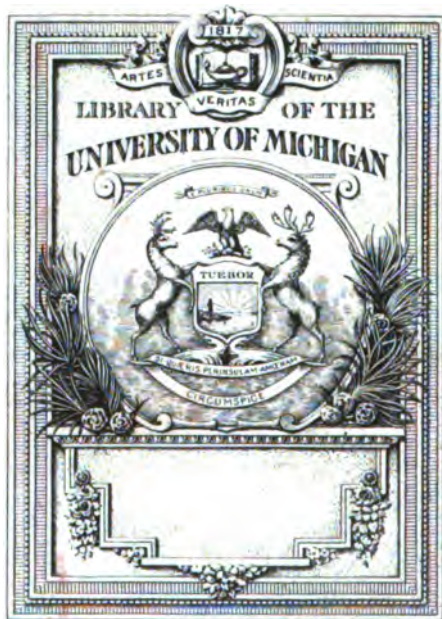

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT

STATE OF NEW YORK — DEPARTMENT OF EXCISE,

ALBANY, N. Y., January 6, 1915.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York:

In accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Liquor Tax Law, providing that "the State Commissioner of Excise shall make an annual report to the Legislature, on or before the second Monday in each year, which shall contain such statements, facts and explanations as will disclose the actual workings of the Liquor Tax Law in its bearings upon the welfare of the State, including all receipts and revenues collected under the law, and all expenses and disbursements incurred and also such suggestions as to the general policy of the State and such amendments of this law as the Commissioner shall deem appropriate," I have the honor to submit herewith the eighteenth annual report of this Department for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1914.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM W. FARLEY,

State Commissioner of Excise.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE COMMISSIONER OF EXCISE

THE LIQUOR TAX LAW

The present Excise Law, which embodies as its principal feature, the State supervision of the liquor traffic and taxation thereon, based upon the population of the locality wherein traffic is conducted, the submission of local option questions in towns, and the abolishment of local excise boards, as they existed prior to the enactment of this statute, became a law March 23, 1896. The law as then enacted with remarkably few amendments for the period of its existence, indicates that its operation has been in a large degree satisfactory to the general public. Due to the very fact that it has suffered so little alteration since its inception, its provisions have come to be quite thoroughly understood by those whose interest it attracts or whose business it affects.

There is still indeed some conflict as to the meaning of some of its provisions. Many of the mooted questions have received judicial determination, and many others about which there is doubt, are at present in the courts, the final determination of which it is hoped will clarify most of the obscure provisions still remaining undetermined.

The administration of the Liquor Tax Law for the purpose of enforcing its apparent intent is often hindered by the construction placed upon some of its provisions. Particularly has this proven true in an attempt to improve conditions by enforcement of provisions intended to regulate and keep the traffic within statutory limitations by the several constructions placed upon the term "certificate."

Traffic in liquors is recognized by the law as legitimate within statutory regulation and control. Such right having been once established, continues until there is an abandonment or a revocation or forfeiture. It is not limited or affected in any way by the "excise year," which begins on October 1st and ends the following September 30th.

The certificate provided in the act is sufficient in all respects to show payment of the tax, but when it becomes necessary to enforce provisions intended to regulate traffic, serious complications arise. It is the plain intent that persons convicted for violations of the law be prevented from holding a liquor tax certificate, and it is equally plain that the purpose is to penalize premises in which disorderly conditions and gambling have been found. As the law now stands, it has been construed to prevent a revocation of a liquor tax certificate after the end of the excise year for which it is issued. Following such a construction of the act, a certificate is not forfeited by a conviction after the end of the excise year for a crime committed during the excise year. In numerous cases, where complaint is made after violation of the law by permitting gambling or disorder in the certificated premises, the case is adjourned and held until after September 30th, or the date of its expiration, and a certificate for the new year is issued October 1st to another person. When the conviction is had, no certificate is forfeited, for none is held by the convicted person at the time. It also follows that unless a revocation proceeding is taken during the excise year, and before the judgment in the criminal action, it cannot be successfully prosecuted. It is inconsistent to assume the guilt of a person charged with a violation of the Liquor Tax Law for many such cases result in the acquittal of the defendant. Until there is a conviction, the facts in such cases are not brought to the attention of the Excise Commissioner in a manner to warrant proceedings to revoke, and he has no means of knowing the criminal case will not be disposed of before the end of the year, so the certificate will be forfeited and the premises penalized. If that were done, a revocation proceeding would be unnecessary, and the expense made to undertake a revocation would be waste.

While the law has been construed by Department attorneys as providing that a revocation proceeding may be instituted at any time after the certificate has been issued, and that in all cases involving disorder or gambling, such a proceeding should be allowed for the purpose of penalizing the premises and prohibiting traffic in liquors for a period of one year, it has been lately decided in the Appellate Division, first department, that a certificate may not be cancelled in a proceeding commenced after the excise year has expired. The holding is practically to the effect that every liquor tax certificate is born October 1st, or on the day issued, and dies the following September 30th. No recognition is made of the intention of the Legislature to deny the right of traffic for a period of one year to any place permitted to become disorderly, or where gambling is allowed.

An appeal has been taken to the Court of Appeals in order that the law, as it now stands, may be finally settled upon this point. If that court asserts the right of the people as against the claim of property owners and certificate holders, who are willing to take a chance upon a technicality, in order to gain an illegitimate profit, no amendment is necessary, but if the decision is adverse, it becomes apparent that the public interest represented in the Legislature should be further safeguarded by amendments to the Liquor Tax Law.

It is of course possible to obtain a revocation and impose the penalty in many cases as the law now stands, and a number of certificates are forfeited each year by certificate holders, but under the construction reviewed, some who should be put out of business are bound to escape.

The principal amendment made to the law since 1896 was that enacted by the legislature of 1910, which is known as the "Ratio Law," and which amendment provides that no liquor tax certificate shall hereafter be issued for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision one of section eight for any premises in any town, village, borough or city unless or until the ratio of population therein to the number of certificates issued under the provisions of said subdivision one shall be greater than 750 to one. Subdivision one of section eight relates to the sale of liquors to be drunk upon the premises and certificates under this provision are those held by hotels and saloons. The purpose of this amendment was the securing of a gradual reduction of the number of drinking places in proportion to population, a result which is being accomplished, as the figures available at the Department show. Under its operation, there has been each year a decrease of the number of subdivision one certificates issued, the reduction for the fiscal year ended being one hundred. On September 30, 1910, following the enactment of the Ratio Law, there were 24,391 certificates in force for hotels and saloons, with a population of 373 to each drinking place. Between September 30, 1910, and September 30, 1914, there has been a reduction in drinking places of 1,018. Based upon a population of ten million, there is now a population of 428 to each such drinking place. This decrease in certificates each year means a gradual falling off in the revenue received by the State from the sale of the same, the decrease in revenue during the above period from the sale of subdivision one certificates amounting to $182,468.75.

Prior to the passage of this amendment, there had been no restriction placed upon the number of certificates issued. Provided the premises certificated conformed to the law, the applicant was entitled to traffic.

This amendment has been helpful in securing the law enforcement, as it tends to reduce the number of certificated places, and those who remain engaged in the traffic are naturally animated with a desire to keep their premises free from the infliction of penalties which might result in a permanent or temporary suspension of their right to traffic.

The successful operation of this provision is best shown by the fact that the Legislature of 1913 enacted a similar amendment respecting subdivision two certificates, which subdivision refers to the sale of liquors, no part of which is to be drunk upon the premises where sold, and what are generally known as liquor stores.

Owing to the much smaller number of certificates outstanding at the time of the enactment of this amendment, the ratio was placed at one certificate to each 7,500 of population. These amendments are safeguarded by provisions relating to the transfer and abandonment of certificates, which effectually insures against any possible increase in the number of places, and in many localities, due to the restriction placed on the issuance, these certificates have a value greatly in excess of the face value of the certificates.

OPERATION

From the nature of the duties imposed by the Liquor Tax Law upon the State Commissioner of Excise, it is perhaps very safe to assume that the operation of hardly any State department is scrutinized more closely by the people generally than is that of this Department, coming as it does in touch with each political subdivision of the entire State. It has to deal with various classes of citizens holding divergent views as to the traffic in liquors, and all being entirely honest in the possession of these views. The range of opinion extends from those who wish as little interference as possible with the traffic to those who are opposed to the manufacture or sale of liquors in any form.

Other points of contact arise between the Department and the citizen by reason of the issuance of certificates, the bringing of bond actions and revocation proceedings, the collection of its revenues and many other matters incidental to the transaction of its business.

From its long operation and the fact that it has had comparatively few amendments, the provisions of the law have come to be very generally understood. Notwithstanding this, from time to time, circular letters are issued to liquor dealers, police officials and other peace officers directing attention to such of its provisions, which, by reason of some peculiar condition, merit and should receive attention.

In addition to such circular letters, provision is also made for the answering of all inquiries received, whether from dealers or others interested in the operation or enforcement of the law. These inquiries cover every possible phase of the law and the closest care and attention is given to each communication.

On every doubtful question submitted, authorities are cited where possible, and every effort is made to be of service to those applying for advice or help. Inquiry as to questionable features of the law is invited from those interested, as it has been found beneficial not only to those inquiring, but also to the Department, and an understanding of its provisions often saves the party unnecessary annoyance and expense.

It is the policy of the Department at frequent periods throughout the year, to furnish to the public at large such information as will acquaint it with its operations and its various activities, and to this end, bulletins are issued from time to time, which are furnished to the different bodies, civic and reform societies, newspapers and interested individuals, showing in detail the names of certificate holders, whose certificates have been revoked, those against whom bond actions have been brought or determined; cases in which liquors illegally kept for traffic have been seized or disposed of, and all such other information relating to the doings of the Department as may be deemed of public interest.

REVENUE

For the fiscal year ending September 30, 1914, the total amount of revenue derived from all sources was $18,109,260.61. Of this amount, $17,486,516.31 was received from the sale of liquor tax certificates; from permits for all night certificates, which are only permitted to be used in cities upon the consent of the mayor, the sum of $49,165. Under the provisions of the Liquor Tax Law, one-half of all fines collected, resulting from criminal conviction, for violations, less the fees of the County Treasurer, are payable to the State, and from this source was received the sum of $42,664. The amount received by the State from this source, is always measured by the activity of the local prosecuting officers of the various subdivisions of the State, and is usually a fair index of the Excise Law enforcement.

The receipts for penalties, which represent the amounts recovered by reason of the successful prosecution of bond actions against certificate holders, who have suffered or permitted violations of the provisions of the Liquor Tax Law, are the largest in the history of the Department, amounting to $462,998; the next highest year having been the fiscal year ending September 30, 1912, when the receipts from this source reached $456,294.70. From transfer fees on certificates was received $44,430, while from interest on temporary deposits of funds, none of which are held by banks for a period of over a few days, the Department received $17,889.73.

Where liquors are illegally held for sale, search and seizure proceedings have been instituted by the Department, the receipts from which have amounted to $5,597.

During the fiscal year, 403 actions were brought to recover penalties on bonds of which 278 had been determined prior to September 30, 1914.

Proceedings to revoke certificates were brought in 156 cases, of which 127 were brought to final determination, and judgments of revocation were secured in 114 cases, of which 47 were for gambling or disorderly conditions.

In addition to the above number of revocations for gambling or disorderly conditions, 35 convictions were had upon the same grounds, making a total of 82 places deprived of the right to traffic in liquors for a period of one year, that being the additional penalty imposed upon certificated premises, where gambling or disorderly conditions are permitted.

As stated in previous departmental reports, the enforcement of penalties by means of bond actions, has a salutary effect, resulting as it does in a loss to the certificate holder of an amount varying from $1,800 to $500, depending upon the locality where the violation occurs. The bond actions are successful in almost every instance, while in the matter of criminal prosecution, even upon the same statement of facts, the defendant in such cases being entitled to every reasonable doubt in his favor, often succeeds in obtaining an acquittal.

In the event of conviction upon criminal proceedings, the fine imposed may be and often is less than the penalty of the bond.

Criminal prosecution for violations of the law rests with the various prosecuting officers of the State, and prosecutions so conducted have a very beneficial effect in aiding the Department to secure a strict enforcement of the law.

COMPLAINTS

A bureau is maintained in the Department for the sole purpose of receiving and making investigations of complaints relative to violations of the Liquor Tax Law. Complaints are here received from various civic societies and bodies and from citizens throughout the State, who are seeking to assist the Department in the performance of its duties, and each complaint, so far as possible, is given every attention by the detailing of special agents to investigate conditions at the place complained of, to interview the complainants where possible as to the manner of violation, and also to ascertain what if any motive there may have been in the making of the complaint.

The number of investigations for the fiscal year upon such complaints was 10,587. In the case of many complaints, investigation fails to result in the securing of evidence, but each complaint however which appears to be made in good faith is given attention.

ENUMERATION

Subdivision 8 of section 8 provides that when by reason of changes in boundaries, or the incorporation of a new city or village, the population is not given by the latest United States census, the State Commissioner may cause an enumeration of such city or village. He may also cause an enumeration of any hamlet or incorporated village. In each such case, the amount of the liquor tax is of course based upon the population shown.

Acting under this provision, enumeration was had of eight unincorporated villages and one newly incorporated village during the fiscal year, which resulted in an increase of liquor tax rates on saloon and hotel traffic from $150 to $300, making an increase in revenue of approximately $15,000.

SPECIAL AGENTS

By section 7 of the Liquor Tax Law, the State Commissioner is empowered to appoint not more than sixty special agents. These agents "shall be deemed the confidential agents of the state commissioner, and shall under the direction of the commissioner and as required by him, investigate all matters relating to the collection of liquor taxes and penalties under this chapter and in relation to the compliance with law by persons engaged in the traffic in liquors."

These men are all appointed from the Civil Service list, and their duties are multifarious. Their duties consist in not alone making investigations for violations of the Liquor Tax Law in the matter of selling liquors by certificate holders, but they assist as well in the making of enumerations, by which excise rates are established; in investigation of uncertificated traffic; the visiting of premises to see that liquor tax certificates are posted properly and interiors open to observation during prohibited hours; making of measurements and maps in cases of disputed consents and appearing as witnesses in court in cases presented by the Commissioner, as well as being frequently summoned before grand and trial juries by the district attorneys of the different counties.

It is obvious that with such a force of men and the duties imposed upon them, anything approaching policing of the State by them is impossible, and that local police officials in the performance of their duties, can be of great aid to the Department in securing efficient enforcement of the law.

UNCERTIFICATED TRAFFIC

Aside from the law violations committed by those who engage in the liquor traffic in prohibited territory in what is known as no license towns, or by those who in territory where such sale is not prohibited, nevertheless engage in such traffic without a liquor tax certificate, fairness to those who have complied with the law and paid the required tax should demand that they be protected from competition with those who make no attempt to comply with the provisions. When the citizens of a town by their votes have prohibited the sale of liquor therein, they have a right to expect traffic to cease. In many cases, local authorities have seemed unable to secure necessary evidence of illegal sale. The Department has given all possible attention to this case of violations, having brought during the year, under the provisions of section 33 of the Liquor Tax Law, 192 search and seizure proceedings, in 128 of which judgments of forfeiture of the seized liquors were secured, and there are still pending 18 cases.

LOCAL OPTION

The law in relation to local option has undergone no change since the enactment of the statute, the voters in each town being permitted to vote upon the four propositions every two years. The changes from wet to dry and vice versa in the several towns of the State, clearly indicate that enforcement of the law by local officials has much to do with the temper of the people and their attitude toward the traffic.

The number of full license towns in the State is 384; no license towns, 407; partial license towns, 142.

Since 1897, the first year under which vote was had under the present law, there has been an increase of 25 in the number of license towns, and an increase of 145 in the number of no license towns.

DISORDERLY AND GAMBLING

As in the past, special endeavor has been made to secure evidence against such certificated premises as have been permitted to be used for disorderly or gambling purposes. Such conditions are not only extremely offensive to the morals of the community where they exist, but they are a decided menace, carrying in their wake a train of evils, the results of which are far reaching and often of a nature beyond remedy. There can be no excuse for any dealer permitting premises to become a resort of gamblers, prostitutes and dissolute persons, and those who attempt such practices are sure to meet with all the penalties which this Department can make it possible to enforce. This policy of the Department has met with the approval of all right thinking people, as is evidenced by scores of communications received, endorsing the work and effort of the Department in this field of endeavor, and every effort will be devoted to the continuance of this policy.

* By the provisions of chapter 115 of the Laws of 1903, liquor tax rates were increased 50 per cent., in effect April 2, 1903.

† By the provisions of chapter 144 of the Laws of 1908, the beginning of the certificate year was changed from May 1 to October 1, to correspond with the fiscal year of the State. Under this amendment, the excise tax collected May 1, 1908, was for only five-twelfths of one year, which explains the apparent decrease in revenue.

During the same period the expenses of the Department have been as follows:

1896	Establishment and expenses May

LOCAL OPTION STATUS OF TOWNS IN NEW YORK STATE

The following summary statement of local option statistics covering all of the towns in the State from 1897 (in which year the first vote under the present law was had) to 1914, inclusive, is of interest. While it shows a fluctuation of the vote in close towns, the increase of twenty-five in the number of full license towns, the increase of one hundred and forty-five in the number of no license towns, and the decrease of one hundred and seventy-nine in the number of partial license towns and a decrease of nine towns in the State during that period, indicate the drift of public sentiment:

* By the provisions of chapter 144 of the Laws of 1908, the beginning of the certificate year was changed from May 1 to October 1, to correspond with the fiscal year of the State. Under this amendment the excise tax collected May 1, 1908, was for only five-twelfths of one year, which explains the apparent decrease in revenue.

† The search and seizure amendment of 1908 has increased the expenses of the legal bureau, but the improved conditions resulting from the enforcement of this provision fully warrant the increased expenditure.

RESULTS IN NEW YORK COUNTY

The net receipts in New York County, under the Liquor Tax Law for the year ending September 30, 1914, after paying all rebates, were $5,971,108.75, of which there was paid into the treasury of New York City as the locality's net share, $2,989,554.38, and into the State treasury as the State's net share, $2,989,554.37.

Since the enactment of the Liquor Tax Law, May 1, 1896, to September 30, 1914, there has been collected under it in New York County $122,449,185.88, of which $65,408,574.25 has been paid into the treasury of New York City, and $53,128,762.83 into the treasury of the State (rebates on surrendered certificates deducted).

BENEFIT BY REDUCED STATE TAX, ETC.

The net amount paid into the State treasury as excise taxes from the entire State for the year ending September 30, 1914, was $9,318,577. 92.

New York County's share of property assessed for State taxation is given in the equalization table for 1914, prepared by the State Board of Assessors, as 44.791 per cent. Therefore, the benefit derived by New York County from liquor tax moneys paid into the State treasury during the year ending September 30, 1914, has been 44.791 per cent of $9,318,577.92, or $4,173,884.05. In other words, if the State treasury had not received the above amount as taxes from the liquor traffic, New York County would have been obliged to pay into the State treasury from taxes on real and personal property $4,173,884.05 more for the support of the State government. In addition to this benefit to $4,173,884.05, from reduced State taxes during the year ending September 30, 1914, there was paid directly into the treasury of New York City, as the locality's share of the excise receipts collected in New York County, $2,989,554.38, making a total benefit for the year of $7,163,438.43, being an increase of $6,107,425.33 over the total $1,056,013.10 receipts from excise taxes under the old law for the year ending April 30, 1896.

It will be noted from the above that New York County's benefit under the Liquor Tax Law by reduced State taxes for the year ending September 30, 1914, was $4,173,884.05, while there was paid into the State treasury as excise taxes coming from such county, but $2,989,554.37; that is, New York county benefited from a reduction in its State tax through operation of the Liquor Tax Law, $1,184,329.68 more than was paid into the State treasury as excise taxes from that county.

The result is due to the fact that New York County's per cent of the entire real and personal property in the State which is assessed for State taxation, is greater than the per cent of the entire excise taxes paid into the State treasury which comes from that county.

DECREASE IN DRINKING PLACES

Under the old law for the year ending April 30, 1896, there were 7,330 places licensed in New York county for liquors to be drunk on the premises where sold. The number of liquor tax certificates in force September 30, 1914, for such drinking places, was 4,520, being a decrease of 2,810 or 39 per cent., notwithstanding an increase in population of over 50 per cent., since the enactment of the present Liquor Tax Law.

ENUMERATION TO DETERMINE TAX RATE

ENUMERATION TO DETERMINE TAX RATE

Under section 8 of the law the rate of tax for any locality is determined upon basis of population as shown by the last State enumeration or the last United States census.

When the population of a city or village is not shown by the latest State census it is determined for the purpose of this act by the latest United States census, and if not shown by reason of the incorporation of a new city or village, or by reason of not having been separately enumerated, the State Commissioner of Excise is authorized and directed, in his discretion, to cause an enumeration of the inhabitants to be taken in such city or village.

The State Commissioner may also cause to be taken an enumeration of the inhabitants of any hamlet or unincorporated village, after first having established a limit or boundary line around such hamlet or unincorporated village, within which limit or boundary line such enumeration may be taken.

If, since the latest State enumeration was taken, the boundaries of a city shall have been changed by the addition of territory not in the same judicial district, such annexed territory shall not be deemed to be a part of such city for the purpose of determining the amount of the excise tax assessed therein; but the inhabitants of such annexed territory shall be enumerated for the purpose of so determining such excise tax.

While the State census of 1892 separately enumerated all the then cities of the State, it, in no instance, separately enumerated the incorporated villages as such. Its plan of enumeration of the rural portion of the State was by election districts, thus preventing the separate enumeration of villages, as the election district boundaries were not coterminous with village boundaries. But under the last State census or enumeration, June 1, 1905, incorporated villages and cities were separately enumerated.

As a result of enumerations made, as shown by the following table, the annual liquor tax revenue has been largely increased and more equitable and satisfactory tax rates established.
